A PLACE TO RECONNECT AND GROW

*“A simple celebration, a gathering of friends; here is wishing you great happiness,
a joy that never ends.”*

Matara

Grown as a creative venture Matara is a unique place of beauty.

We host life’s celebrations and keep our gardens open for everyone to enjoy and feel encouraged to come relax and explore.

Enjoy our tranquil gardens, give yourself the opportunity to find respite from modern life’s pressures, and reconnect with the natural world.

WHAT STARTED IT ALL

25 years ago a man had an idea.
Drawn to Asian philosophy and principles he wanted to create a beautiful place that fused Asian and English architecture, a place that invited people in, created a sense of calm and gave time to reflect.

His curiosity of ritual in ceremony and celebrations across all cultures led to the exploration of a place for gathering.

WHERE DID IT GO FROM THERE?

Matara is forever changing.

As a place we are continuously developing.
Whether it is a new garden or a re-imagined room, you will always discover something new, no matter how many times you return.

As a host we invite you to fully express yourself and your celebration. Release your creativity and treat Matara as the canvas it is intended to be.

As a caretaker we are returning 50% of our parkland to a natural habitat for wild life, including wetlands, flower meadows and hedgerows. With over a thousand trees planted we have only just begun.

We share our good fortune by hosting charity events and donating 10% of our profits to charities that help people in need of help themselves.

“Perspective means taking a step back and realising that we are all just little fish in a very big pond.”

STEVE DE MARCO

*“There is nothing else
you can do but burst out laughing.”*

ZEN PRACTICE

WE BELIEVE IN...

creative expression,
connection with nature,
harmony, love and caring,
and being a part of a positive future.

We want you to feel at ease and cared for.
